

Paul Davitt

Paul is our Treasurer and we treasure him. He's the one nobody looks at when, every year he asks "Would anyone else like to be treasurer?"

He loves a spreadsheet and if something can't be made into a spreadsheet, then it doesn't exist.

He is responsible (amongst other things) for the money and making sure the Society is financially sound. He keeps a keen eye on the expenses and if he was Chancellor of the Exchequer of the country you'd definitely vote for him.

Aside from keeping us afloat, Paul keeps us well fed too.

His Sunday Morning bakes are an institution in the Big Shed when the shop is open (10-12). It's worth popping in for his lemon drizzle cake alone.
