

Among other roles on the committee, Louise produces our Newsletter and is always on the look out for interesting items to include in the newsletter, so if you have anything you think may be of interest to the Society and other plot holders please get in touch with her.

She's an expert, knowledgeable grower and along with her husband Mal produces the most delicious blackberries.

“ I like to try at least one new thing each year. This year it's Carlin Peas - they are a traditional Lancashire dish and unusually you grow them for drying.

Apparently they are a bit like chickpeas! They grow 6ft tall so keeping the pigeons off may prove a challenge!

The best bit of advice I have been given is to grow a little bit of lots of different things.

That way you avoid gluts of something and run out of ideas as to what to do with it!”
