

Denis is the Trading Secretary and as such is responsible for the stock in the shop. He's the one scouring the brochures and catalogues for the best deals to make sure we can bag a bargain.

He is also the guy who organises the manure delivery. It's a shit job but somebody has to do it!

If you would like something specific ordering, have a word with Denis and he'll see what he can do.

If you're lucky you might see him with Bob, his chocolate brown Labrador who occasionally helps him out on his plot.

“ One of my favourite veg to grow has been green beans they are so prolific no matter where on my plot I grow them.

The other veg I like growing is carrots in a raised bed I have had quite good success with them and have been very rewarding.

This year I'm trying Mangelwurzels for fun of it they're related to beetroot apparently and allegedly taste good roasted or in curries...we'll see!

The best tip I've been given is to hoe the weeds little and often this has saved me so much time from back breaking hours of weeding”
